Building Trauma-Informed Communities

More about the speakers:

Jedd Hafer

The Love & Logic Institute

For more than 20 years Jedd Hafer has worked with severely troubled youth in treatment centers and alternative schools where he has witnessed miraculous turnarounds in kids with traumatic pasts. Jedd is a father of four kids, two who are adopted out of the foster care system. His experience with challenging youth fuels his flair for training professionals and parents. He has presented to schools and organizations in 46 states and 6 countries. As a former touring professional comic, Jedd's presentations are always filled with humor and passion, blending his own hilarious style with Love and Logic techniques. Check out his latest audio Love and Logic in Tough Situations, his trauma-informed webinar, Love and Logic Strategies for Kids with Hurtful Past

Justin Scott Campbell

Diversity & Inclusion Specialist, Co-Founder, 2045 Consulting

Justin Campbell is a diversity and inclusion specialist based in Los Angeles, CA. He also works as a junior associate trainer with Allied Path Consulting in San Francisco, CA. His workshops and trainings in both the private and public sector have helped numerous organizations recognize how rich and dynamic their multiracial, inclusive spaces already are. Justin has led these workshops in cities across the country on topics such as the roots of systemic oppression, cultural humility, calling in vs. calling out, and how to have courageous conversations in the workplace. He is also a certified trauma professional who integrates a trauma-informed perspective into each workshop and training.

Wendy Mielke, M.S., LMFT

Clinical Director, Crittenton Services for Children & Families

Wendy Mielke (pronounced Mil-Key), is a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist with a psychotherapy-based practice in Fullerton, CA and current Clinical Director at Crittenton Services for Children and Families. She completed her graduate studies in Counseling with a Masters of Science degree from California State University, Fullerton and is passionate about educating and training staff, who work with victims of trauma. Wendy is a frequent speaker presenting on topics including Trauma and the Brain, Empowerment vs. Exploitation, when survivors share their stories, as well as accompanied Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking (DMST) survivors to Washington DC to bring awareness of human trafficking to political leaders. In addition, Wendy has worked with LA probation and community agencies in order to develop prevention workbooks and groups for adolescents at risk.

Dawn Ledesma, M.S., LMFT

Clinical Director, Crittenton Services for Children & Families

Dawn Ledesma, is a bilingual Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist who is a current Clinical Director at Crittenton Services for Children and Families. She completed her graduate studies in Counseling with a Masters of Science degree from California State University, Fullerton and is passionate about parenting, play therapy, multicultural and multi-generational trauma interventions and childhood development. Dawn is a frequent speaker presenting on topics including Boundaries, Intimate Partner Violence and the impact on the family, Therapeutic Interventions for Infants and Children and Managing the Behavioral Challenges of Traumatized Children. In addition, Dawn has worked with LAUSD, Community Colleges and other school districts to provide therapy services to underserved youth on school campuses.
