TITLE IX

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT ON CAMPUS

Information for Students, Faculty, and Staff

NORTH ORANGE COUNTY
COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

Fullerton College

Title IX and Sexual Misconduct on Campus

What Conduct Does Title IX Prohibit?

North Orange County Community College District Policies and Title IX prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex and gender, sexual harassment, and sexual assault. Sexual assault includes but is not limited to rape, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking.

What is Affirmative Consent?

Affirmative consent means affirmative, conscious, and voluntary agreement to engage in sexual activity. Affirmative consent must be given without coercion, force, threats, or intimidation.

Both partners must clearly communicate their willingness and permission to engage in sexual activity. Consent is active, not passive. Silence, lack of protest or resistance cannot be interpreted as consent. Previous relationships or prior consent cannot imply consent to future sexual acts.

Both partners need to be fully conscious and aware of their actions. A person is unable to give consent if they are asleep, drugged, intoxicated, unconscious, a minor, mentally impaired, or incapacitated.

Both partners must be equally free to act. The decision to be sexually intimate must be made voluntarily. Both partners have the right to revoke their consent at any time during sexual activity by actively (verbally or non-verbally) communicating their desire to stop the activity.

What to Do If You've Been Sexually Assaulted

Go to a safe place. If you are in fear of your safety, call the police (911) immediately, especially if the assailant is still nearby. For an assault on campus, call Campus Safety.

Seek emotional care and support. Don't try to deal with this situation alone. Call someone you feel you can talk to. The Rape Crisis Hotline has counselors available 24 hours a day at (714) 957-2737 or (949) 831-9110.

Get medical attention as soon as possible to assess and treat physical injuries you may have sustained and to collect evidence of the assault.

Help preserve evidence. You do not have to decide immediately whether or not you want to pursue a criminal complaint.

Consider reporting the assault to the campus Title IX Coordinator and/ or to the police. Telling the police does not commit you to further legal action.

This experience was NOT your fault. Reach out for support, because you are not alone.

Campus Interim Actions

Upon request, NOCCCD will make any reasonably available change to a victim's academic and or working situation. Examples of interim actions include: shielding a student from ongoing contact with an individual; taking an individual out of a class or issuing an administrative no-contact order; assigning an individual to a different lab or other clinical or work setting.

Reporting Options

Report to Law Enforcement:

If you are a survivor of sexual assault, you have the choice to report the crime to local law enforcement. You can also report the crime to Campus Safety if the assault occurred on campus.

Reporting on Campus:

Formal complaints of violations of NOCCCD's Sexual Misconduct and Harassment Policies are filed through the Title IX Coordinator on your campus.

Medical Exam:

Students are strongly encouraged to seek medical attention and support, regardless of when the incident occurred, to be treated for any injuries, given prophylactic antibiotics, and offered emergency contraceptives.

In Orange County, sexual assault exams are conducted at Anaheim Regional Medical Center. A police officer is required to authorize the exam.

Physical evidence from a sexual assault must be collected within 96 hours of assault. It is important that you do not wash yourself or your clothing before an examination.

Please Note: You do not have to press charges, testify, or file a report to have a sexual assault examination completed. The state may hold the evidence for a certain number of days while you decide if you would like to make a formal report to the Police.

Alcohol and Other Drugs:

If someone is drunk, they can NOT legally give consent. If you are underage, you will not get in trouble with the District if you report a sexual assault that happened to you while you were drinking.
